NEW SERIES.

SEDALIA, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1893.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

THE OLD AND NEW.

ONE DISSOLVED AND ANOTHER GIVEN BIRTH.

A NEW HOSPITAL SOCIETY.

It Was Organized at 4 O'clock Yesterday Afternoon—Election of Officers.

The long advertised meeting of the Sedalia Hospital association, for the purpose of dissolving the old association and organizing the new, under the name of the "Sedalia City Hospital Society," was held at the office of Sangree & Lamm at 4 yesterday afternoon, just after the DEMOCRAT had gone to press.

There was a very large attendance and the greatest possible enthusiasm prevailed. Hon. Henry Lamm was present and aided the ladies not a little in disposing of legal matters pertaining to effecting the new organization.

The old organization was formally dissolved by the presentation and adoption of the following preamble and resolution:

THE OLD STEPS OUT.

WHEREAS, The ladies of this city organized into a voluntary association known as the "Ladies' Hospital Association," of Sedalia, Missouri, have been incorporated by the state of Missouri into a legal corporation, under article 10, of chapter 42, revised statutes of 1889, under the name of "The Sedalia City Hospital Society;" and

WHEREAS, This said voluntary association—the "Ladies Hospital Association"—has now in the hands or control of its officers a considerable amount of money which was raised and is held for the purpose of being used to purchase, erect and maintain a charity hospital in the city of Sedalia; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this association now instructs its officers and agents to turn over and deliver to the officers of "The Sedalia City Hospital Society," (when duly elected), all the money and other property of this association, and the said money and other property is hereby donated to "The Sedalia City Hospital Society," to be by it held and used for the purposes set out in the third article of its "articles of association."

Resolved, That it is not necessary or desirable to hold any further election of officers, for this association shall be and is hereby dissolved by mutual consent, and its agents and officers are directed to settle with the officers of "The Sedalia City Hospital Society," and said officers (when elected) may proceed to collect and hold the said money and other property for the purposes aforesaid.

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

A temporary board of managers was then elected, to serve until the first Monday in October, when a new board will be chosen, to serve during the ensuing year:

Mrs. Isaac Wolf, Mrs. G. B. Simonds, Mrs. Kate Hawkins, Mrs. G. L. Faulhaber, Mrs. Alexander Allen, Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, Mrs. Chas. Moorhead, Mrs. Robert Wright, Mrs. W. F. Hansberger, Mrs. Mary Robbins and Messrs. D. H. Smith and E. E. Clark.

From the above board the following temporary officers were elected, to serve until Monday, October 2, next, when permanent officers will be chosen:

Mrs. I. Wolf, president.
Mrs. G. B. Simonds, first vice president.
Mrs. Mary Robbins, second vice president.
Mrs. Alexander Allen, third vice president.
Mrs. D. H. Smith treasurer.
Mrs. W. F. Hansberger, financial secretary.
Miss Lillian Conner, recording secretary.

BY-LAWS ADOPTED.

By-laws were then adopted. They provide that the principal office shall be in Sedalia; that gentlemen other than those named in the articles of association may become members of the advisory board; that the president and vice presidents shall be selected from the board of managers; that the regular annual meetings shall be held on the first Monday in October of each year; that the board of managers shall consist of eleven members of the society; that the board may fill any vacancy; that the advisory board shall consist of seven gentlemen who are citizens of Sedalia, to be selected by the board of managers; that the board of managers shall have regular monthly meetings; that no salaries be paid to any officer of the society, and no officer shall have power to put any incumbency upon the property, except as set forth in the articles of association.

The by-laws are quite lengthy, but the above embraces their substance, and after their adoption the meeting adjourned.

WHO CRAMPTON IS.

What He Knows of the Late Miss Artie Morgan.

Sheriff Porter today received an 8-page letter from J. W. Crampton, of the Soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kas., who figured in the correspondence of the late Miss Artie Morgan, as discovered by Public Administrator Clopton when he took an inventory of her personal effects.

Crampton says the medicine he sent to Miss Morgan was Garfield tea and Hood's pills, and it was to be taken for indigestion, which ailment he supposed she was suffering with.

He claims that he never knew anything wrong regarding Miss Morgan, and refers to the fact that as he is 76 years old he should not be considered responsible for her condition when she came to Sedalia.

There are some things that he did not explain, however, and until he does so he is at least liable to suspicion.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Wm. Hammond, the "Katy" Baggage-man, Passes Away.

Wm. Hammond, of 317 East Sixth street, employed as a baggage-man on the north end of the M., K. & T., left here on his run Monday night, on delayed train No. 4, in his usual health.

At Paris, he was seized with a violent griping in his stomach, produced by having eaten grapes, it is thought, and continued to grow worse until Hannibal was reached.

Late yesterday afternoon a telegram was received by his wife stating that he was very ill, and requesting her presence at once.

The message was received in time for her to board the north bound train last evening, and she reached his bedside at midnight, but this forenoon a message was received, bearing the sad intelligence of his death at 5 o'clock this morning.

The deceased was about 47 years old and came here from Nebraska. He formerly traveled for a St. Louis boot and shoe house, and had been running baggage on the M., K. & T. for the past two years. He leaves a widow and four children.

The body will arrive from Hannibal at 7 o'clock this evening, and until that time nothing will be known regarding the funeral.

Wasn't There When Wanted.

Frank Hill was arrested last night, charged with carrying a concealed weapon in the shape of a huge knife, with which he had threatened to kill a companion. He gave bond for his appearance before Recorder Rauck this morning, and was there before court opened, but was missing when his case was called, in consequence of which it was continued.

Emma Miller, charged with keeping rooms for an immoral purpose, had her case dismissed.

The case against A. J. Blair was also dismissed.

THE CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

Patriotic Utterances of Papal Delegate Sattoli Greeted With Applause.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 6.—In the course of his address at the opening of the Catholic congress yesterday Mgr. Sattoli said:

"Let us restore among men as we can justice and charity. Let us teach men to be ever prompt to make sacrifices of self for the common good. This is the foundation of all healthy social movements; this is the foundation of your own congress."

"Now all these great principles have been marked out in the most luminous lines in the encyclicals of the great Pontiff, Leo XIII. He has studied them. Hold fast to them as the safest anchorage and all will be well. These social questions are studied the world over. It is well that they be studied in America, for here in America do we have more than elsewhere the key to the future. Here in America you have a country blessed specially by Providence in the fertility of field and the liberty of its constitution. Here you have a country which will repay all effort, not merely ten-fold, but aye, an hundred-fold. And this no one understands better than the immortal Leo, and he charges me, his delegate, to speak out to America words of hope and blessing; words of joy. Go forward, in one hand bearing the book of christian truth, the bible—and in the other, the constitution of the United States. Tremendous applause, the people rising to their feet.] Christian truth and American liberty will make you free, happy and prosperous. They will put you on the road to progress. May your steps ever persevere on that road."

A Fire at the Burg.

TRAIN MEN SHOW FIGHT.

The Robbers Driven Away Empty Handed—The Express Car Blown Open.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—Another train was held up last night on the St. Louis & San Francisco road, this time with the unique accompaniment of a captured robber.

Express train No. 1 on the "Frisco," west bound, was flagged with a red light a few miles east of Pacific which is about forty miles west of St. Louis. The train came to a standstill and two men held the engine crew at bay while a third went to the express car and demanded admittance. The messenger refused to open the door. The demand then came from one of the engine guards to blow her open. The command was almost instantly followed by a deafening report and the wood-work of the car the side of the car. The prisoner was placed under guard at the station and the train proceeded. Excited villagers to the number of 300 had gathered about the depot and it was only by a rush of the officers that a battle was prevented.

A wild rumor was started that the thieves had secured $20,000 from the express safe, but the report is not credited.

A determined posse started out after the robbers and they will be hunted night and day until caught.

There was strong talk of lynching the captured robber by the people of Pacific who are indignant at this attempted robbery coming so soon after the Wilson hold up.

was wrecked. Then the three highwaymen joined forces and tried to enter the car, but were impeded by the wreck.

At this juncture the conductor and a brakeman rushed up to the robbers with pistols drawn, and commanded them to surrender. The robbers answered with a poorly-directed fusillade, which the two brave train men gave back with interest.

Such unexpected resistance unnerved the robbers, and two of them took to their heels. The third was overpowered and made a prisoner by Dr. Bond and the trainmen. The prisoner's name is Lenox, a former employee of the road. So far as known no one was hurt.

When the train pulled into Pacific station the express car presented a sorry sight. Dynamite had torn

A Blind Boy's Heroism.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Three boys, one of them blind, were bathing yesterday at Waterford. The two whose eyes were unimpaired were swept out beyond their depth by the current, when the blind boy, guided by their cries, found and rescued one. Though much exhausted he tried to save the other, but failed and one was drowned.

Will Meet Tonight.

There will be another meeting of the council tonight, when three old chestnuts—the roller, the East Sedalia sewer and the Fifth street paving—will be ventilated.

Official Paper of the City of Sedalia.

Cut down the weeds and burn them!

EMIN BEY, the African explorer, has been killed and eaten again.

PUSH the repairs on sidewalks until all the deadfalls are abolished.

No Sedalian should think of combining a trip to Chicago or St. Louis with a shopping tour. If you must go to see the shows, at least do your shopping at home and leave that much of your money in circulation in your own community.

The St. Clair county judges submitted the proposed bond compromise to the voters and it was rejected by a large majority. Now the judges are to be again incarcerated on the order of Judge Phillips. This imprisonment for debt is a hardship that only county judges have to bear.

The newspapers of Nevada, Springfield and other Missouri towns are filled with advertising for the fall trade. Sedalia, which has stood the panic better than any of them, must wake up and take her place at the head of the procession where she usually stays and rightfully belongs.

STILL another train robbery on the Frisco and Missouri is the scene of the outrage this time. One of the robbers was arrested on the spot and of course the others will be caught and sent to the penitentiary, as it is the laws of Missouri that have been violated.

A DENVER pastor, says an exchange, has asked his congregation to reduce his salary from $5,000 to $1,000. Another minister in another part of the country recently placed his entire savings and his pension money at the disposal of the suffering and needy in his parish. Such men are indeed ministers of the gospel.

WHAT a glorious thing it would be if the people of Sedalia would forego pleasure trips away from home during the balance of the season and spend their surplus cash in making improvements in the city. The weeds could all be cut, new sidewalks built, residences could be painted and business houses improved. A smile would come up on the faces of working men and the merchants would take up business affairs with renewed energy and courage.

By rejecting the home rule bill, says the Detroit Free Press, the house of lords can furnish another strong argument in favor of its own abolition. It is regarded by thousands of English subjects as a superfluous body of men who stand for nothing but their titles, and to put aside and trample under foot the will of the people as expressed by their direct representatives is an act the result of which will be watched with a great deal of interest by the lovers of liberty the world over.

If Mr. Cleveland can frame a state bank bill that will throw sufficient safeguards around the currency and allow such banks to use western and southern securities as basis for circulation it will relieve the debtor sections of much of the hardships complained of under the present system. Missouri bonds are as good as government bonds, Pettis county bonds are just as good, and with these as security for circulation they could be floated at a mere nominal interest and the interest kept in circulation at home. A wise, conservative measure of that kind would be supported by the west and south and do much to remove the feeling of bitterness and disappointment that followed the defeat of the free coinage bill.

CUT THE WEEDS.

In yesterday's DEMOCRAT "Observer" called the attention of the public to the rank growth of weeds on many unoccupied lots and along some of the streets in the city.

It is held that these weeds growing and decaying furnish one of the sources of danger to the public health and the writer of the communication asked the board of health to take steps to abate the nuisance.

With cholera threatening the country and malarial diseases prevalent in many sections, no precaution that is necessary to protect the public health should be neglected.

But outside of the danger to the health of the community, a busy, hustling, enterprising city like Sedalia should not allow rank weeds to grow along the sidewalks.

The DEMOCRAT understands that there is an ordinance expressly enacted for the purpose of laying the weeds low. If this is true let that ordinance be brought to light and put to work.

Its enforcement will cost little. A few days work by men who are anxious for employment will rid the city of the nuisance.

The weeds must go and the public health must be protected.

In urging an immediate vote on the Wilson bill in the senate, the St. Joseph Gazette, an earnest advocate of free coinage, says: "If there was even the shadow of a hope of forcing a compromise the fight-to-the-last-ditch policy would not only be justified but demanded by the people, but since every day consumed in the discussion of the Wilson bill adds to the ignominy in which some of the western democratic leaders are wallowing, the disgraceful powwow cannot be ended any too soon. Its continuance only enables the democratic senators who have gone into partnership with John Sherman to continue the fight upon bimetalism, shielded by an ambuscade built of hypocritical oratory, in which they vow allegiance to the party and the platform which by their votes they are about to betray and abandon. The sooner the wretched farce is over the better."

The judges in the forth-coming primary election for postmaster cannot be too careful in preventing unauthorized persons from voting. It has been decided that only democrats shall participate, and decent, self-respecting republicans and populists will make no effort to vote; but the worst element in the opposition parties—the very element that it is desirable to keep out—will be the ones who will be most anxious to vote. In the absence of a law protecting the ballot box at such a primary, it is going to be difficult to have a fair election. It is well for all democrats to remember that the coming primary is not the last political contest that will be held, and that the evil that will come from the casting of unauthorized votes will last for years. If any democrat attempts to run in republican votes let him be remembered for all time by the democrats of the city and defeated as often as he asks for party recognition.

THE State university of Missouri places its advertising in Missouri—or rather tries to place its advertising—from a Cincinnati, Ohio, advertising agency. We believe the university could place its advertising to better advantage than by going outside of the state to do it. The papers of this state deserve better treatment at the hands of this institution.—Mexico Ledger.

An institution like the university that expects the support of the press and the people of the state ought to send its advertising direct to the newspapers and thus save the publishers the 25 per cent that otherwise goes to the advertising agent. A patent medicine house may employ an agent to gouge the press and pocket the profits, but a great state university that expects thousands of dollars worth of free advertising from the press of the state can hardly afford to do so.

A BAD MAN FROM PETTIS.

HE RAISES HADES IN VERNON AND ESCAPES.

He Was Fined for Disturbing the Peace, But He Was Never Arrested.

A very bad man from Pettis county made his advent here last night, says the Nevada Mail of Monday evening. He came with a company bound for the Strip.

The party camped on the other side of the Drywood bridge, and late in the afternoon the bad man, whose name proved to be Wm. Hanshaugh, took out his pistols and commenced an exercise which he probably deemed necessary to comfortable existence in the territory.

With a pistol in each hand he kept up a dangerous fusillade on the public road, endangering not only the lives of travelers, but seriously interfering with the composure of S. S. Trueman, a wood chopper, who was camping a short distance away. The bad man had enough whiskey to make him reckless and would listen to no protest.

Trueman came to town and reported the matter to Sheriff Scrogg and a warrant was sworn out for the offender. The sheriff and Deputy Williams went out after him.

There were four men in the boomer party, and the bad man was on hand. He suggested that it would be the proper thing to read the warrant and the sheriff stooped down by the fire to do so.

Hanshaugh was sitting down and once during the reading made a motion as if to strike the sheriff, but another of the party, by a shake of the head, warned him not to do so.

When the warrant was almost read, Hanshaugh suddenly jumped up and started off. Mr. Scrogg caught him by the leg, but was unable to hold him, and the next instant he was running through the woods at a breakneck speed. The sheriff followed, and for a few minutes the race was a warm one. Each man did his best, but the fugitive, though a splendid runner, was handicapped by his ignorance of the country.

Hatton's slough was in front of him and he did not know it. He was on the steep bank before he knew it. There was a heavy splash and the bad man from Pettis sank beneath the chill waters of the slough. He came up and made his way across, but the sheriff, declining to follow, returned to the camp.

The officers learned that the fugitive was an unusually muscular young man about 25 years old, who generally made trouble when he was drinking. A short time since he had knocked down two policemen and escaped from them.

During the course of the conversation Hanshaugh slipped quietly back to the edge of the camp, and mounting a horse belonging to the party started away with a rush. Deputy Williams fired two shots in his direction, but they were answered by a yell of defiance, and the man turned in his saddle to ask a member of the crowd to take care of his horse.

Hanshaugh had an uncle named Kelly in the party who, when told that the sheriff intended to take a horse belonging to the bad man, agreed to accompany the officer to town. While the matter was being discussed Hanshaugh returned almost to the camp. When Mr. Scrogg attempted to approach he ran away. Finally Kelly got hold of the bridle, and the rider, seeing that capture was imminent, jumped down and disappeared in the woods.

The officers brought Hanshaugh's horse to town, and they were accompanied by Mr. Kelly. The animal, a very fine one of thoroughbred breeding, was hitched at the court house rack.

A short time after, Mr. Kelley pointed to a man a short distance away, exclaiming that it was Hanshaugh. Sheriff Scrogg gave chase, but the bad man reached the horse first and that was the last seen of him. He had told members of his crowd that he intended returning to Pettis and probably did so.

He had followed the officers to town on his uncle's horse, and left that animal hitched on the square. He went into McConnell's saloon for a drink and in payment presented a $5 bill. His attention was called to the fact that the money was dripping wet, and he replied that the sheriff had run him into the creek. There was a long gash on his forehead, which was probably made by striking a log when he tumbled into the slough.

Mr. Kelly agreed to pay whatever fine was assessed against his

A NEW SWINDLE.

How Farmers Have Jobs Put Up on Them.

A new swindle upon honest and unsuspecting farmers has been brought to light, and this is the way the scheme is operated, according to the Parsons Sun: Swindler No. 1 calls upon a farmer with a patent wagon tongue and informs him that, having made a big thing of it, he is on his way home, with only this county to sell. He tells the farmer that he can have it for $250, and if he wants it to write to him. In a few days a patent right man comes along. He has heard that the farmer has the right of the county for the patent wagon tongues, and as he has made a big thing of it in adjoining states, he wants to buy the right of the county, and offers the farmer $500 and pays ten dollars to bind the bargain.

The farmer writes to No. 1 and sends him his note for $250. He never hears of either of the two men again, and his note comes up for collection in a neighboring town and Mr. Farmer is out $240.

Indian Legend About "Oweta."

In days long past there lived in the west a beautiful Indian girl named "Oweta." She was as good as she was beautiful, and all who saw her loved her. The young men all sought her hand and love, but as she could only give to one she left with her tribe the information of her discovery of the "Oweta" coal (named after her), which is the most wonderful ever known, being equal to the finest grade of anthracite coal in the market; in fact, it is the finest grade of anthracite, and far cheaper. This coal is only handled by the Stanley Coal Co. Call and see them before you order your winter's supply. Telephone 26.

HE WANTS DAMAGES

A SECTION MAN'S SUIT AGAINST THE PACIFIC.

HE WAS KNOCKED DOWN.

Items of Interest Picked Up for the Benefit of Readers of the "Democrat."

Conductor Al Marsh, Conductor Goddard, Conductor Bulkley, Roadmaster Pat Sheehan, M. L. Gray, agent at Holden, and W. C. Smith, clerk for Roadmaster Sheehan, are at California today as witnesses in the $5000 damage suit of James Murray versus the Missouri Pacific.

In 1890 Murray was employed as a section laborer at Knobnoster. One fine morning he was standing against the end of a box car, puffing his pipe, when several cars were switched and struck the one he was leaning against. He was knocked down and one of his legs caught beneath the wheels and badly pinched, lacerating the flesh, but not fracturing the bone, so that today the plaintiff is in as good shape as he ever was, so it is claimed.

Murray soon recovered from his injuries, signed the customary release, relieving the company from all responsibility for the accident, and went to work. Subsequently, however, he decided to bring suit for damages and the case has been hanging fire in the courts since 1890.

THE NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

Dr. Jos. F. Robinson, Who Lives Near Windsor.

Dr. Jos. F. Robinson, who was elected superintendent of the Nevada asylum, is a native of Knob Noster, Johnson county, and is 46 years old, says the Nevada Mail.

He is a graduate of the State university, being a member of the class of 1870. He graduated in medicine at Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia in 1875 in a class of 170 with high honors. He has resided on a fine farm near Windsor a number of years, where he has enjoyed a fine practice. In addition to this he has engaged extensively in breeding fine horses and cattle. He has a wife, but no children.

He is prominent as a democrat, a most excellent gentleman, and a member of the Baptist church. The board could not have found a better man to place at the head of this magnificent institution than Dr. Jos. F. Robinson.

He will put his business at Windsor in charge of others and bring his wife to Nevada and take charge of the asylum as superintendent October 1st.

The First Railway Engine.

The Northeastern Railway company has renovated and placed in a new position the first railway engine that ever ran on a public railway.

This famous engine is known as "No. 1," and was built by the great engineer George Stephenson. It has recently been removed from a pedestal contiguous to the North Road station, on the line running west, to the Bank Top station, upon the main line at Darlington. At the North Road the engine, standing, as it did, outside the station, was exposed to the action of the weather.

It has now been placed on a stone pedestal at the south end of the Bank Top station under cover. The position the old locomotive now occupies enables passengers to see this venerable specimen of engineering and the "tender" wagon attached to it. The working parts are placed above the boiler, and in sight. The boiler is cased with wood, and the funnel issued from the front with a curve to a height of about 10 feet, and is serrated at the top. Near the funnel is a bell suspended upon a cross bar.

It was used to announce the train's arrival at and starting from stations, and to keep clear the line. Previously the engine was partly olive green and partly black, the working parts, of course, not being painted, but now it has been "got up" in red, blue, yellow, white and black, while the lettering and the bell are gilt.

Upon the sides of the boiler casing appears: "No. 1 ran its first public journey on September 27, 1825, when the Stockton and Darlington railway of England was opened."

Story of a Stolen Ticket.

George Hagenbuch, passenger and ticket agent for the Santa Fe railway in Kansas City, received the following letter, dated Chicago, yesterday:

SIR—The enclosed ticket is the property of the lady whose signature it bears and who was deprived of it by a conscientious pickpocket in the grounds of the World's fair at Chicago. As the loss has no doubt been reported to your office I hope you will have no difficulty in restoring it to her or its equivalent to allow her to continue her journey.

Respectfully,
A PICKPOCKET WITH A CONSCIENCE.

The ticket was a coupon issue of the Fitchburg railway and was good over the Santa Fe lines from Kansas City to Los Angeles until September 7. It was sold August 29 at the Union ticket office No. 1, Weybossett street, Providence, R. I., where G. S. A. Gardiner is the ticket agent. It was signed by the purchaser, but Mr. Hagenbuch does not wish to make the name public, as the woman to whom it belongs will be asked to give a name corresponding with that on the ticket as identification.

The "Ellen N." Strike.

The strike of the machinists and shopmen of the Louisville and Nashville began in earnest yesterday. Over 900 men are out in Louisville alone. The shops have been closed for several days and it was only after the shops had been closed that the men declared they would not submit to the 10 per cent reduction.

Yesterday the shops were opened as usual and the foremen were all on hand, but not an employee appeared and in half an hour the doors were closed again. As yet the company has done nothing toward getting men to take the places of the strikers, but it will doubtless soon do so, as the number of bad order cars is piling up rapidly all over the system.

The shopmen held meetings yesterday to discuss the situation but did nothing. Already they are beginning to feel the loss of time and it is thought they will ask to be taken back, though the leaders declare that this will not be the case.

Wants $10,000 Damages.

Russell M. Lakenan, of Hannibal, has filed a suit in the United States circuit court against the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company for damages amounting to $10,000.

The petition states that he owns a lot embracing nearly eighteen acres of land near the outer depot at Hannibal, and that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas company closed a street known as Owens avenue, by placing the building known as the outer or transfer depot across the avenue. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas owns lot 1, which is a twenty-acre tract on either side of Owens avenue.

The plaintiff prays that the railroad company be compelled to open this avenue and pay him $10,000 as damage to his property.

Regarding the Rail.

Railroad day at the World's fair has been changed from September 15 to September 16.

J. J. Frey, general manager of the Santa Fe, and family, left Kansas City last night for a visit at the World's fair.

In the absence of Conductor Goddard, who is attending court at California, his train is being run by Conductor Tom C. Butts.

Next Saturday, September 9, the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf railway will begin the operation of its line from Kansas City to Sulphur Springs, Ark., a distance of 206 miles.

Conductor Marshall DeHaven, of the M. & T., will be 45 years old next Monday, and will be at home to a few friends that evening at No. 1207 East Eleventh street.

T. M. Roberts, agent for the M. & T. at Clinton, and bride, passed through Sedalia this morning, en route to Canada on their bridal trip. On their return they will visit the World's fair.

Conductor Will Young, of the Gulf road, returned home this morning, after a week's sojourn here. He desires to thank the B. of R. T. for the care taken of his brother, Henry, during his late illness.

September 26 has been designated as Odd Fellows' day at the World's fair and the different lodges have asked for a special rate for the occasion. The Western Passenger association will hardly grant the request.

A passenger rate war is on between the Kansas City, Osceola and Southern and the Kansas City, Clinton and Springfield railways from Clinton to Kansas City and return. A $1 rate for the round trip has been made between Clinton and Kansas City.

Al Harris, the well-known brakeman, is laying off because of an injury to his right hand. He was hitching up his animal yesterday evening, when it started to run, and Al grabbed at the bridle with his hand. The knuckles struck the horse's teeth, lacerating the flesh quite badly, necessitating his laying off several days.

A reduction in force has just gone into effect along the Southern Pacific from El Paso to New Orleans. The reason is that there is very little business being done and a smaller force is competent to handle it. The reduction effects very few men, however, and is applicable for the most part to telegraph operators and men doing clerical work in the general offices and at the stations. It is said that not more than 200 men altogether have been affected by this order.

Jim Corbett's Chances.

Parson Davies, discussing the Corbett-Mitchell contemplated fight, says: "Why shouldn't Corbett win? He outclasses Mitchell in every point. He has at least five inches the best of the Englishman in reach, is fully six inches the tallest and will be at least twenty pounds the heaviest when they meet. Add to this the fact that Mitchell is six years older than Corbett and that he has not fought for five years, and never fought to a finish under the rules that he will have to fight Corbett, and you see that everything points to Corbett as the winner."

Arrested in the Country.

Dan Settles and Marion Davenport, young men of 17 or 18 years, were brought to Sedalia last evening by Deputy Constable Barnett, who had arrested them near what is known as County Line church, six miles northwest of Lamonte, charged with the theft of buggy whips that were taken from vehicles while the owners were attending camp-meeting. The boys are of excellent families and say they are innocent. They gave bond in the sum of $50 each for their appearance before Justice Blair on Saturday next.

A Winter Poem.

For your coal and wood
That's very good
Try Harris, who keeps the grain,
And give him a show,
If he don't make a blow,
For he'll get there just the same.

My anthracite is the very best,
My soft coal's just the same,
My stove-wood it is all O. K.,
As well as my hay and grain.

So don't forget the place
Where goods are up to grade,
And give R. H. Harris a call,
The hustler in the trade.

Thrown from a Buggy.

While out driving, last evening, Miss Mary Motz, of East Broadway, Mrs. Lucy Harris and a five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman McDonald were thrown into the street by the horse becoming frightened and overturning the buggy. Miss Motz had her right shoulder fractured, Mrs. Harris sustained injury to her right thigh and the child suffered from injuries to the head. Dr. S. K. Crawford attended them.

TAKEN FROM A MUMMY.

The Strange Scarfpin Owned by a Seattle Man.

A well-known gentleman of Seattle the other day handed to a reporter a curious looking scarfpin, the head of it being the size of a small marble, such as is used by boys. In color it was of a peculiar reddish amber, and seemed to contain a strange life-like heart, from which a drop of blood appeared ready to fall.

"A heart of fire bedimmed with haze."

"What is it?" asked the reporter.

"It is an eye taken from a mummy," was the reply.

"Where was it taken from?" was asked.

"I was at Arica, Peru, in 1882, and took it from a mummy myself," was the reply. "A number of young men and myself one day went out for sport and dug up half a dozen mummies for the sake of seeing what they had been buried with. We found money, pieces of pottery, etc., but did not strike a gold mine. Nearly all the better class of mummies seemed to have these eyes in them, and I took this from one of them. I could not learn what it was. Some people in Peru contend that it is the natural eye preserved and hardened in some manner, while others think it is a fish's eye. They do not bother their heads much about it down there, however. The fact that these eyes are found in mummies is sufficient for them. I have never heard of any tradition connected with them."

"I took the eye to a jewelry store in San Francisco and tried to get it polished, but could not, although half a dozen men worked on it. The powder arising from it while they were at work would make them deathly sick, and also get in their eyes and blind them temporarily. You see that it has scaled off in places. I finally had it set in this pin as you see it."

AN IRON JAW.

Big Jim Carter Apologizes for Sitting on a Man's Hat.

"Big Jim" Carter, the famous Nevada fighter, died the other day. Mark Twain, in "Roughing It," tells a story of his prowess. Twain's account illustrates the quiet but deep determination of the man. One evening Carter entered a restaurant and unintentionally sat down on the hat of a tall and athletic hot-blooded young gentleman, who was with two or three equally high-spirited companions.

When Carter realized what he had done he apologized, straightened the hat out to the best of his ability, and gave his assurance on his honor as a gentleman that it was not an intentional affront, and in a few modest words endeavored to appease the wrath of the young man, who was, in fact, a worthy citizen, though a trifle inexperienced. The man with the broken hat insisted that it was an outrage that could not be forgiven, and, taking off his coat, challenged the stranger to combat.

"If we must fight we must, I suppose," said Carter, slowly, as if undecided what to do. "I don't like the idea, though, for I don't believe the whole lot of you would have any chance with me. Let me show you something."

Quietly sitting down at the big table he took hold of it with his teeth, and bracing his knees against the lower part of the table raised it and its contents, a big dinner for four, roast and all, and with his horse load stood erect.

When he put the table to the floor without spilling a drop from the well-filled glasses, there was an oppressive silence, which he broke by saying:

"I have already apologized. My name is Carter. Let's all take a drink."

Nobody refused.

A TENDER-HEARTED DOG.

His Keen Perception Made Him an Unwelcome Visitor.

"Look here," said an excited man, rushing into the office of a busy man, "I want you to send up to the house and take away that dog you sent me yesterday."

"What's the matter with the dog?" "There's everything the matter with him. He howled like a loon all night, and half the folks in the neighborhood are dead and buried—in their minds."

"That's very strange. He never acted that way with me. Did you chain him up?"

"Not a chain."

"Oh, by the way. What did you have for breakfast this morning?"

"What has that got to do with the dog's howling?"

"It may have had a great deal to do with it. Did you have lamb chops or beef steak?"

"Neither. We had summer sausage."

"Exactly. I've hit the nail on the head the first time."

"I'd rather you'd hit the dog on the head. 'Spose he wasn't fed last night?"

"Oh, no, but he knew by occult vision, instinct, that you were going to have sausage for breakfast. He is, as I said, very tender-hearted, and blood is thicker than water. He discovered the presence of a playfellow."

But the abrupt slamming of the door terminated the visit and the dialogue.

Vandalism at Gettysburg.

If secretary Lamont has authority to stop the vandalism that is disfiguring and destroying some of the important original features of the Gettysburg battlefield, he should lose no time in employing it. The electric railway company which is invading the historic ground has already wrought widespread havoc and shows a determination to go still further in its work. The whole country demands that these unpatriotic operations shall cease.

Robbed of His Watch.

Virgil Killen, a farmer living in the northeastern part of the county, reported to the police last night that he had been relieved of his watch on West Main street. He suspected a young man with whom he had associated and furnished the police with his description.

MARRIED THIS MORNING.

DR. HENRY HATCH WEDS MISS EMMA LYON, OF THIS CITY.

The Bridal Couple Leave at Noon for St. Louis and Chicago—Will Reside in Quincy.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Lyon, No. 223 East Seventh street, at 10 o'clock this morning, Miss Emma Leonora Lyon, their daughter, was married to Dr. Henry Hatch, of Quincy, Illinois.

The Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of Calvary Episcopal church, gracefully and impressively performed the ceremony in the presence of a select company, comprising only of the immediate relations and friends of the bride and groom.

Upon the conclusion of the sacred rite of marriage, the happy bridal couple and their friends were invited to a wedding breakfast graciously presided over by Mrs. B. B. Lyon. The tables were handsomely arranged and held the choicest dainties and delicacies of the season.

At noon the couple, accompanied by a party of ladies and gentlemen took carriages for the union depot, where, a half hour later, they boarded the train for St. Louis. There they will make a brief visit and then go to the World's fair, after which they will return to Quincy, their future home.

Dr. Henry Hatch is one of the most popular and prominent citizens of Quincy, and, added to the good fortune which has fallen to his lot in other particulars, is another one—his winning as his wife the beautiful and accomplished Sedalia maiden who now bears his name.

Together with a host of friends in this city, the DEMOCRAT extends to Mr. and Mrs. Hatch its sincere wishes, hoping that happiness and prosperity may be theirs always and in liberal measure.

Back to Jail.

Sheriff Porter returned last night from Houstonia with Clay Skillman, who was arrested yesterday, charged with seduction and having administered drugs for the purpose of producing an abortion upon Miss Vena Lockney, as chronicled in last evening's DEMOCRAT.

The young man was unable to secure a bondsman for $500 at Houstonia, and in consequence was returned here and committed to jail, pending a preliminary hearing before Justice Wethers at Houstonia Friday.

PAYMENT WAS REFUSED.

A Test Case Will be Made By Pettis County.

The celebrated Charles Blessing case came before the county court late yesterday afternoon, when a bill was presented from the officials of the Nevada asylum for Blessing's care and board. The court promptly declined to pay the bill.

Charles Blessing, a non-resident, was convicted in 1889 in this county for assault with intent to kill James Gossage, and given a 10-year sentence. He became insane three months ago and was sent to Nevada by the state authorities at the expense of Pettis county.

The county court expects that mandamus proceedings will be commenced to compel the payment of the asylum bill, but good legal authority says that the state and not Pettis county is responsible for the indebtedness.

A Forged Check.

A young man giving the name of Hughes, claiming to live at Hughesville, presented a $5 check on the Sedalia National bank, bearing the signature of J. S. Hughes, to Chas. Alive and Dead.

A lady had almost decided to buy the coat she was trying on. The weary sales-woman breathed a sigh of relief. The customer had been hard to suit. Even yet she fingered the buttons and twitched the sleeves thoughtfully. "What was this fur when it was alive?" she asked abruptly, as she adjusted the collar. The sales-woman hesitated and stammered. She was torn between a business-like desire to make a sale and a conscientious regard for the truth. Her confusion was painful. "Well, ma'am, we have to call it martin," she said at last, "but it was skunk when it was alive."

The Hairs of the Head Numbered.

"Dr. Wilson, a well known English authority," remarks the New York Herald, "says that the average number of hairs to the square inch on a human scalp is about 1,000, and the whole number of hairs on the scalp of an adult is in the neighborhood of 120,000. Dr. Walneyer asserts that he counted, in the space of a quarter of an inch, on the crown of a man's head, 293 hairs, while he counted only 125 in the same space on the occiput, and 211 on the anterior part of the scalp."

Hobson's Choice.

A financier of doubtful reputation gave a grand ball. Dancing was still going on at 3 in the morning. As one of the guests was about to retire, the man in charge of the cloak room handed him the first top coat that came in his way. "But this is not mine." "Not yours? I am very sorry. It is the best one left." "But mine was new; perfectly new." "Oh! the new ones have been all gone since 12:30."
